I'm sitting here with my best buddy on my lap. It makes me sad to see him this way.

So, I made a call to Kris at 8pm. He was feeling poorly.

She said she could come tomorrow afternoon.

I worked at Roundup Vet Clinic for 8 years and a lady would come and help the race horses with hands on therapy. At that time, I didn't believe in it. She could take the pain away by touching those horses.

My dogs need the essence of Kris. She's a wizard when it comes to helping my 4-legged friends. They have issues and she seems to calm, relax and access the inner ability to heal them without taking toxic drugs.

Thanks Kris-you're a healer. We are glad we found you
